CALIFORNIA BANKER DEAD IN MOUNTAINS

Body Found Near the Summer Camp of Woman Bank Employee.

NOTE IS FOUND

Is of No Significance Witness Tells Coroner—It Is Believed That the Man Was Murdered.

SAN BERNARDION, Cal., Nov. 26. (AP)—Miss Mary Watkins, approaching witness stand at the coroners inquest today, professed ignorance of the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of her employer, William Fee, bank president, whose body was found yesterday in the San Bernardio mountains near the cabin maintained by her.

Sheriff Shay believes that the banker was murdered. Fee has been missing since Saturday when he went to the mountains with his wife and was last seen when he told her he was going to repiar a radio aerial and left his mountain home.

Miss Watkins related her trip into the mountains Saturday, explaining the finding of a suit of clothing identified as one previously worn by Fee, saying that it was one given her by him some time ago by the banker to provide hiking clothes for men guests.

Searchers who found the body fifty yards from the cabin expressed a belief that it had been placed in that position. An affectionate note signed, "Mary" is without significance Miss Watkins said.

Under the terms of the agreement, the commissions which is yet to be selected, will pass upon all claims for losses, damages or injuries suffered during the war by the United States.

WASHINGTON SINKS TO BOTTOM

Goes to Davy Jones Off the Virginia Capes by Texas Gunfire Yesterday.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 26.—The battleship Washington was sunk off the Virginia capes yesterday morning, at 10:58 o'clock. Of the sinking and the time, nothing official as to the manner in which the United States carried out the last act of its scrapping program under the naval armament limitation agreement could be learned here. Any information as to the destruction of the ship, authorities at the Hampton Roads navy base said, would have to come from Washington.

From unofficial sources, however, it was learned that the big mass of steel went down under fire of the 14-inch guns of the battleship Texas as had been planned but even from that quarter no information as to the number of shells required for the sinking could be obtained.

Williams was arrested after an all night search and is being held by townspeople pending the arrival of the sheriff. The girls went to the shack yesterday to do some cooking for Williams, their uncle, and when they failed to return their father instituted a search for them which resulted in finding their bodies. The girls had their hands tied behind them and were shot in the ead.

SECRET CLOSETS REVEAL HISTORY

Old Posting Inn of Much Hadham Has Been Declared to be the Oldest Hostelry in England.

LONDON, Nov. (AP)—An old posting inn of the ancient village of Much Hadlham in Hertfordshire, once a favorite resort of Queen Elizabeth ,has been declared to be the oldest hostelry in England. It was recently ascertained that the old building, venerated because of its royal associations, had been a landmark for several hundred years when the Tudor Queen visited it. In the time of William the cltufis,i late eleventh century, parts of the old inn were then outposts of a neighboring castle and used to house travelers who passed through the district.

When a new proprietor came to the inn a short time ago ,in making repairs to the walls, they found to be covered with canvas which hid a wealth of rich old panelling and carved work. Behind a section of papered canvas in the dining room a secret staircase was found which led to an apparently secret room. A collection of bones lay in a dusty heap at the foot of the stairs. In this room in peling off the 30 layers of canvas and paper which covered the wall, several old cupboards and small closets were found in which old records and papers were piled. It was in ciphering these that the early history of the place became known.

The papers made frequent references to Queen Elizabeth's times recording her arrival there with a party of friends ,sometimes with her court and occasionally with only one or two companions. As Sir. Walter Raleigh also is known to have frequented the place it is pseuposed that the Queen's companion on some occasion was her sailor favorite.

Opposite the inn is an old palace of the Bishops of London which was also visited by Queen Elizabeth, and the village is surrounded by a grove of the lime trees, some planted by the Queen.

The inn is being restored as nearly as possible to its Elizabethan condition and many of the rooms will be used as museums.

English Business Shows Improvement

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP).—Great Britain is today earning much more money than of late years and in 1923 its income from productive power, and services rendered to the outside world, totalled around $17,350,000,000 or $400 per annum for every man, woman and child in the country. This represents an increase of $1,65,000,000 on the 1922 figures, says the economist.

It is calculated that British business in 1923 was working at 85 percent of its 1922 capacity, against 85 percent in 1922, and only 80 percent in 1921.

NORTH CAROLINA MOB AFTER NEGRO

Militia Called After Arrest of of Negro Truck Driver Who Kills Girl.

NEWBERN, N. C., Nov. 26.—With machine guns planted in front of the building, Battery D. 117th field artillery, North Carolina national guard are guarding the local jail from possible attack by members of a crowd of several hundred persons who earlier in the night had surrounded the jail.

The crowd had gathered after John Godette, a negro, had been lodged in the jail charged with fatally injuring Edna Williams, 12-year-old school girl, in the village of Croatan, 12 miles from here this afternoon. Godette, according to witnesses, drove an automobile at a high rate of speed into a group of school children at Croatan striking the little girl and injuring her so that she died half an hour later. He then made off in the direction of Newbern after fixing a blow out which occurred at the time of the accident, where he later was captured.

COSTLY TASK TO VALUE RAILWAYS

The Commission Has Spent Some $25,000,000 and the End of Task Isn't in Sight.

WASHINGTON, Nov, 26 (AP)—Completion of the groundwork of valuing America's railroads, that the Interstate Commerce Commission has been carrying on since 1914, is not yet in sight.

When the work will be brought up to date, officials point out, depends largely upon when congress makes the necessary funds available. So far, the commission has spent some $25,000,000 in the task of primary valuation, and the expense to the railroads themselves, has been heavy.

Primary valuation, which forms the basis for the commission to determine a railroad's present day worth, is now 90 percent completed, with respect to making up the original reports. These reports are reviewed and corrected. This latter work is now 60 per cent completed. After the tentative valuation reports are served on a railroad it may file exceptions to the commission's figures and be given a hearing. The commissioners determine both tentative and final valuation. If a road accepts the tentative valuation—no hearing is necessary.

After completion of the primary valuation figures for the country's railroads, the commission's officials say, the work of valuation will still go on, as railroads are continually adding equipment, improving property and being subject to changes in their financial affairs. These figures must be kept current as a basis for rate-fixing.

Senator LaFollette is the father of the "valuation act," under which the commission is proceeding to fix the value of American railroads.

MERCHANT IN SERIOUS CONDITION

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Nov. 26. William Barge, merchant at Flatlick, who was shot Sunday afternoon in front of the postoffice there, is not expected to live at a local hospital, to which he was brought for treatment.

According to police, James Lacker of Flatlick emptied a pistol into Barge following an argument.

PRESENT RED CROSS PROGRAM

Club Rooms Were Decorated With Red Cross Posters, Flags and Bunting.

The American Red Cross was the subject of the very interesting program given at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. E. S. Helburn, chairman of the philanthropy section of the Club. The club rooms were very attractively decorated in Red Cross posters and flags and a large cross made of white and red cloth wound around a frame stood on the platform.

Mrs. Helburn gave a short talk on the value of the Red Cross, Mrs. J. C. Burke gave an interesting paper on talking points for the Rer Cross and Mrs. Helen Forrester read an excellent editorial on Mrs. Eunice Morris, local nurse, told of the work she was doing here accomplishments of the Red Cross. Mrs. Warren P. Rash, chairman of the roll call, gave a short outline of what had been done and what was being planned for the membership drive. After the program came a social hour during which tea was served. Mrs. R. L. Maddox at the piano and Miss Josie Krimminger on the violin furnished music during this social hour.

Preceding the program several very important matters of business were discussed. Mrs. Hinks presented the proposition of a juvenile court for Middlesboro, suggested to her by Chief Ball. The chief also suggested a woman judge and Mrs. Hinks showed that such a court would take the children out of the class of hardened criminals and would certainly lessen crime among boys and girls.

August Fischer, city playground and recreation supervisor, appeared before the club to ask their support in the Community Christmas which he is planning. The Kiwanis Club, he explained, is sponsoring this movement and other organizatoins will join in putting it over. The club voted unanimously to help in any way they could.

Makes Outline of Educational Needs

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 26.—(AP).—Significant needs before the educational public today were given by McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction.

County boards of education should be given "the privilege of levying an additional tax for high schools, or raising the maximum rate of taxation for school purposes above the present 50 cents' Kentucky is the selection as school limit," he said. He continued:

"Another educational need in officials noly those who will render an unselfish service for the public good, and consider the niterests of the children of the state paramount to any personal interest.

"The development of our teacher training training institutions to their greatest possible efficiency through a policy of liberal support and closer cooperation is another educational need of Kentucky.

"Another need is the improvement of our system of certification so that it will better protect the interests of the schools, and insure just recognition of scholarship and teaching ability.

"Another educational need that may be mentioned in this connection is the encouragement of Parent- Teacher Associations, and similar organizations, in their desire and willingness to aid and improve in every possible way the educational interests of their communities.

"These aims do not cover all, but, in my judgment, are the significant needs before the educational public today."

GERMAN FREIGHT TRAFFIC GROWS

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—(AP).—Freight traffic on the German government owned railways increased 12 percent. In September as compared with the business of August, it was announced recently by the railroad administration. The increased traffic is due partly to the fall shipments of agricultural produce, but is also attributable to a marked improvement of the economical situation in general.

SUGGEST PROGRAM FOR ROAD WORK

Organizations Through Spokesmen and Correspondence Have Presented Program.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 26.—(AP). — Organizations, through spokesmen and correspondence, have laid a suggested program before the state highway commission.

Building of a 1,060 mile system, crossing Kentucky four times, built for $5,715,00, was proposed and received sanction of Joe S. Boggs, state highway engineer. He said, however, that the building would not be possible before 1920.

The arterial system would cross the state three times from the north to south and once east and west, taking in the West Dixie, East Dixie, Dixie Bee, Midland Trail, and Jackson Highway.

Completion of the thirteen mile gap in Bath county on the Midland Trail, the only present existing gap in the Midland Trail in Kentucky, was asked by the Bath county fiscal court, in resolution, with intention of several hundred citizens expressed to appear before the commission December 10.

From Whitesburg, Ky., came a report of a meeting of the Kentucky Good Roads Association to be held at Hazard, Perry county, Friday to push completion of three sections in Knott and Breathitt counties of the Kentucky-Virginia highway. With this done, a road would be virtually in readiness from the Virginia border to Lexington, it was predicted.

The Barren and Monroe fiscal courts recently held a joint meeting at Glasgow to work out plans for the state's taking over of the Glasgow-Tompkinsville pike for a state road, according to county judge O. M. Bohannon. He and Judge Basil Richardson and county judge Jackson were appointed to present the matter to the commission.

A report from Harlan stated that the pike from Harlan to Pineville, connecting Harlan with the Boone Trail is graded and that this link will be paved by the fall of 1926.

Utilize Tides To Supply Electricity

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP).—A $150,000,000 project to use the tidal rise in the River Severn for the production of electrical power will be undertaken by the British government in the spring. A committee of electrical experts appointed to investigate the possibilities of harnessing the Severn to furnish power for the surrounding district has completed a report in which they recommended that the work be undertaken.

Tse project has been favored by British engineers for several years and, it is expected, will lead to the erection of hydro-electric plants on most of the rivers of England affected by the tides.

French Eating More Meat Since the War

Meat consumption in France has increased three fold since the war; French livestock in insufficient tot meet the demand, and the general public has manifested a dislike for frozen meat. Such are the facts that have been brought out by the investigation ordered by the government in its campaign to bring down the cost of living.

Hence an increase in the importation of live animals is recommended, and 00,000 sheep will come to France from the River Plate, in South America.

The report of the investigators calls for cheaper fertilizers and agricultural machinery to encourage the sowing of wheat, and recommends that the number of French steam fishing vessels be increased.

Meanwhile a two-pound loaf of bread sells in Paris today at a higher price than any time since the war of 1870.

STORIES OF FORD PURCHASE ARE DENIED

No Significance Is Attached to Transfer of Offices.

MOVE INTO WILDS

Anna Lee Is Small Community Off From the Railroad, and Is Reached Only By Wagon.

PINEVILLE, Nov. 26.—Offices of the Red Bird operations of the Fordson Coal company were moved Tuesday to Anna Lee, a small settlement far back in the mountains many miles from a railroad.

Officers of the company, which is owned by Henry Ford, said that no unusual significance was attached to the transfer of the headquarters to this community, although reports have been rife in this part of the state for some time and every move looking to the development of the Ford holdings in the mountains has ben watched and commented upon. Two newspapers in the mountains last week carried stories that Ford had purchased another large tract, but these stories were denied immediately by the owners of the property.

The transfer of the office here follows the recent visit to Pineville and Red Bird of several of the high officers of the Ford company. These officers made an inspection of the Ford holdings and visited all the property in this field.

The records of the office here will be taken by train to Garrard station and thence over a wagon trail twenty miles to Anna Lee. Officers of the company and employes were busy Monday packing and preparing for the movement. Anna Lee is a small community off the railroad and inaccessible except by wagon or mule.—Knoxville Journal.

England Has Many Road Casualties

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP).—Motor cars in England have not yet become so common that they kill as many people each year as does influenza, which statistics show to be the case nowadays in America, but the toll of life on the highways is becoming a matter of concern over here, too.

In the past 12 months road accidents increased in number by 26 percent over the previous year. Sir Henry P. Maybury, director-general of roads in the Ministry of Transport, told a recent meeting of motor manufacturers, that he has been impressed with the growing tendency to increased speeds by all manner of vehicles.

High speed driving is more dangerous in England than in almost any other country with good roads, for the country highways seldom keep to a straight line for any considerable distance. It is doubtful if they ever will, unless automobiles become considerably more numerous and new roads are demanded. One of the charms of England is her winding narrow roads, lined with hedges, and few want to see them given up merely for the sake of getting from place to place in less time.

Pioneer Merchant Dies at Lexington

LEXINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP) — John T. Viley, 79, native of Scott county and member of a pioneer Kentucky family died last night at the home of his sister, Mrs. O. D. Clark, from paralysis. Mr. Viley was born in Georgetown and was a member of a Louisville wholesale firm of fifty years ago.

Official Communication to League Council at Geneva.

ACTION UNDECIDED

Protest Comes From Parliament Instead of Government — Egyptian Officials Superceded in Soudan.

KAHRTOOM, Soudan, Nov. 26. (AP)—Units of the Egyptian army stationed here received orders today to evacuate the Soudan at once. The Fourth Battallion has already left. The Third Battallion with the artillery leaves shortly.

GENEVA, Nov. 26. (AP)—A telegram of protest against the British action in Egypt following the assassination of Sirdar Sir Lee Stack, was received today by the secretary of the league of nations from the Egyptian parliament under the signature of the president of that body. The text indicates a similar communication forwarded to all world parliaments.

The telegram is not a request for intervention by the league but is confined to an exposition of the Egyptian parliamentarians.

League officials seemed in doubt as to proper procedure in the matter, since the message came from parliament and not the Egyptian government. The officials are undecided whether to distribute it officially to the members of the League council now meeting in Rome.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The communist party in a manifesto issued today blames the British imperialistic policy for creating the inflamed feeling in Egypt which was the driving force that generated the attack on the Sirdar.

"When Premier MacDonald followed up his preuptory dismissal of Premier Zagloul Pasha with his imperialist dispatch to Viscount Allenby." the manifesto continues "he did his share toward effecting the operation of the terms that are now in the ultimatum and contributed his quota in the development of the present situation.

"Well may he speak highly of the dead Sirdar. It may serve to cover up his own evil work. The attitude he adopted toward Egypt made some such act almost inevitable."

The manifesto concludes by demanding tthat the annexation of the Sudan shall be stopped and interference with Egypt ended.

KHARTUM, Sudan, Nov. 26. — The Sudanese newspapers today published the British note to the Egyptian government both in the Arabic and English languages. It appears that the Sudanese generally are contanted with the British action and in some quarters the view is expressed that the projected measures do not go far enough.

The Sudan Herald demands the complete severance of Sudan and Egypt and urges, in addition, the evacuation of the Egyptian militaries and the removal of the Egyptian civil population. The latter consists mainly of government employes. The telegraph and telephone services are being worked by Britons, the Egyptian employes having been suspended.

STUDY MEASURES TO HELP FARMER

Those Interested In Farm Measures Are Encouraged By President's Attitude.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Plans for aiding farmers at a short session of Congress is understood to include the fourfould proposition of cooperative marketing, preferred railroad rates for farm products, development of European market, and easier credit for cattle raisers.

The agricultural commission and members of Congress are studying the question. A preliminary report is to be submitted within the next month, recommending these features as a basis for legislation.

Those mostly directly connected with farm measures declared themselves optomistic over the attitude of the president toward the report.

MUD ROADS TO BE THE LOT OF KENTUCKY

To Wallow In Mud for Two Years, Say the State Officials.

MONEY ALL GONE

All Construction Is to Be Stopped Since Bonds Were Defeated and Fund Is Exhausted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 26.—Virtually a complete shutdown of the Kentucky road building program, lasting probably until the year after next (1926) looms, in the opinion of various highway officials in statements today. There is no question that curtailment of road building will cripple construction next year, it was admitted at the State Highway Department.

Governor W. J. Field's indorsement of the State Highway Commission's retrenchment policy, entered upon following the November 4 election, was the major development of the day.

An embarrassing condition of the road fund, recently disclosed, was declared to be the gist of the situation, generally considered to be critical after the commission's recent order to shut down all road work December 1, a reported order of the commission is against letting any more contracts until July 1, 1925, and a private expression that virtually no road building would be done until year after next.

Talk of special session heard, but officials remained noncommittal.

"No road building until 1926, think of it," said one of the state's highest officials, who asked that his name not be used in connection with the statement. "There is no money left."

"We Certainly Need It."

Asked if there was going to be a special session of the Legislature, he said:

"We certainly need it."

Governor Fields just before the Court Appeals upheld the constitutionality of the bond issue had, said he was considering calling the Legislature together to enact tax measures, in the event the bond issue was thrown out.

The Governor's statement today admitted of no possibility of letting further road contracts. He cited the outstanding obligations for road construction. He pledged the administration to the pay-as-you-go program.

"The official returns of the recent election verify early reports that the bond issue was defeated by a very decisive vote," the Governor said in a statement. "In a spirit of true Americanism, I bow to the will of the majority."

Commission Has Labor Problem

FRANKFIRT, Ky., Nov. [illegible] (AP).—With the closedown of all road work December 1 due to lack of revenue rather than the [illegible] er, the commission has before it either the discharging of trained men or the carrying of them over on the payroll until work recommences April 1.

In the summer months, the entire personnel is sometimes as high as 2,000, but the average number employees in the department of state roads and highways, not including day labor and in maintenance work is 600, Joe S. Boggs, state highway engineer, recently declared.

A season of dull activity is in prospect so far as road work is concerned, as the commission at its last meeting committed itself to a policy of retrenchment.

The road fund has a balance of about $1,[illegible]. The [illegible] deficit is over $7,[illegible] standing road warrants of [illegible] $8,000,000.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla, Board of Commerce.

THAT where people buy and what they buy depends upon the advertisements they read.

THAT a business concern that wishes to attract business must make itself attractive to those who have money to spend. No business exists in the minds of the public unless it is constantly telling them what they have for sale through the printed page.

THAT quality, well advertised, is always in popular demand. This fact is proven because quality is selling in greater volume each year.

THAT persistent advertising maintains present business and assures future business.

THAT well advertised merchandise is better for use, therefore, better to sell or buy.

THAT business concerns are judged to a great extent by the merchandise they offer for sale.

THAT it is always best to carry in stock, well advertised lines and advertise that fact locally.

THAT successful business concerns are the greatest asset any community can have.

ADVERTISING through the printed page is the cheap best and sure way for business concerns to tell who they are, where they are and what they have for sale.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Tammany Tiger, which did its bit in lacerating the political hide of John W. Davis, erstwhile democratic candidate for president, had best beware

For John is on his way to India where he can study tigers in their native lair, and when he comes back he may have a few tricks up his sleeve with which to tame the tawny feline.

Davis, it must not be forgotten, as titular head of the democratic party, remains in control of the party organization.

The chairman of the national committee, Clem Shaver, is a Davis henchman, first, last and all the time. He, indeed, is the man who put Davis in the running and even more deeply than the candidate himself does Shaver feel the sting of the party's defeat.

NOW the national committee, when it last met, adjourned "to meet again at the call of the chair." Which means that there will not be a meeting of th ecommittee until Shaver wants it

And Shaver is not going to want one until he has things lined up to get favorable consideration for certain proposals now being worked out which he believes might effectually tie a couple of painful knots in the Tammany tiger's tail.

One of these is a proposed change in the basis of representation for the next national democratic convention.

At present two delegates are seated in the convention for each member of congress from each state.

On this basis, New York state had 90 delegates in the late Madison Square Garden fracas, of which 56 came from greater New York City.

THE result was that while New York's votes in the convention threw that gathering into a deadlock that lasted through more than 100 ballots, thereby wrecking all democratic hopes and changing the entire aspect of the campaign, in the election the entire electoral vote of the state was handed to Coolidge despite the fact that a democratic candidate for governor was elected.

That, submits Shaver and the Davis cohorts, looks like a fine case of the double-cross. To which the old McAdoo phalanx—with many representatives on the national committee— echo a heartfelt "So it does."

BEFORE Davis went on board the boat which bore him toward England, India and other points east, it was suggested to him that representation in the next democratic convention ought to be placed on a basis that would allow states that cast democratic electoral votes the edge in the selection of democratic candidates.

In other words, it was proposed that representation in the next convention ought to be fixed in a ration proportionate to the votes for the democratic national ticket at the las presidential election.

On such a basis, New York's position of dominance in the convention would be cut from under her and she would have to take, if not a "back seat," at least a seat more in keeping with her election day im-

In supporting this proposal it is urged that the New York electoral vote has been democratic but three times in 52 years—for Cleveland in '84 and '92, and Wilson in 1912, and that Cleveland's plurality in 1884 was a bare 1000, although he was New York state's "favorite son."

THIS, among other problems political and personal, John will cogitate on during his four-month tour abroad. Perhaps he will even ask the judgment of Lord Reading, viceroy of Inida, about it. For he will be guest of the viceroy while in the land of real tigers.

German Soldier Ends Long Exile

STRASBOURG, Nov —(AP).—Ten years to a day since his departure from this city to join the German army, Charles Wolff, first posted as missing and later as dead, has returned to his home town.

In October, 1914, Wolff was called up for service in the German army. Made prisoner by the Russians a few days after he arrived at the front, he was sent as an agricultural laborer to the Don district, where he remained until peace was signed at Brest-Litovsk. He married a young Russian woman and purchased a farm in Siberia, 500 miles from the nearest railway station. He claims that the Bolshevists robbed him of all his livestock, but he rode away on his last remaining horse and after travelling for several months he reached Berlin, whence he was sent to Strasbourg.

Ten years exile in Russia and Siberia has had the effect of changing Wolff's nationality, and the German soldier who left in 1914 has now become a French citizen. He will resume farming on the property of his father at Marmoutier, on the lower Rhine, and has sent for his Russian wife.

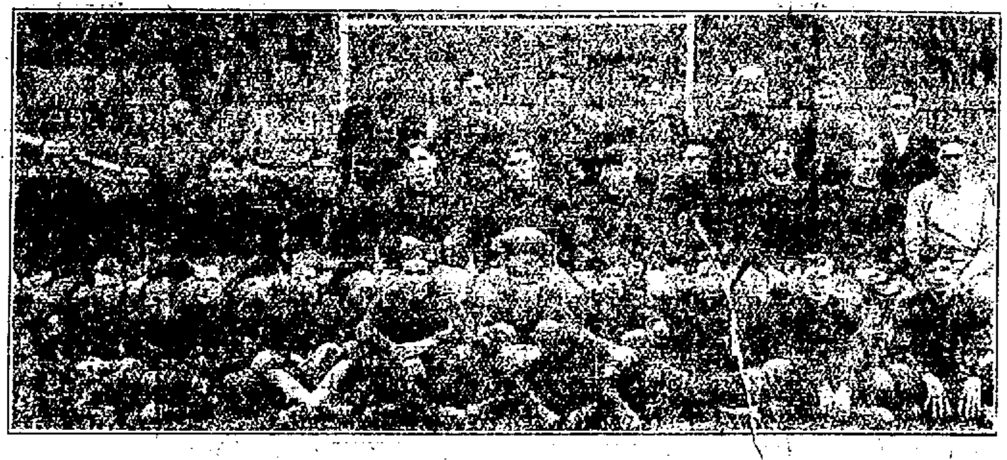
"PINEVILLE MOUNTAIN LIONS"



Captain Jim Carnes Gives Battle Cry

"We are ready for a real battle! May the betters all lose: and the better team win!

CAPTAIN JIM CARNES,
Pineville H. S. Football Team.

Captain Jim Carnes of the Pineville team, right tackle, is 19, is about 5 feet 10 inches, weights 155. This is his third year both as high school student and as a player. He was born and reared in Pineville.

Coaches And Players Make Statements Before Battle

"Clean Sport" Is the Watchword; a Fine Spirit Prevails.

THE "ZERO" HOUR

This Season Has Been One of Upsets, But Middlesboro Is Going to Spill the Old Dope Bucket.

The local football squad seemed to be composed of sixteen optomists when interviewed at their special training quarters at the Booneway Inn.

"This has been a season of upsets," said Captain Gibson, full back, but M. H. S. is going to upset the dope Thursday at the expense of Pineville."

Here are presented the views of the principal players in regard to the outcome of this annual football classic to be played tomorrow.

"Jake" Dean, end. "I think M. H. S. will win, by a close margin."

"Frankie" Jacobs, half back. "We will win. That is all that I have to say."

Roscoe "Red" Cooke, quarter back, "He who laughs last, laughts best."

Clarence Spangler, end, "Pineville shall not pass."

Harvey Yeary, end, "P. H. S. mountain lions will meet the lion tamers tomorrow."

Bill "Puss" Haynes, left guard, "I have full confidence of a glorious victory for Middlesboro."

Gregory Clelland, tackle, "The mountain lions will go back over the mountain."

Henry "Tarzan" Sewell, center, "I am confident that our team will put out its best and will send Pineville back home a surprised bunch."

Kee Kinnard, half back, "Let 'em come! Let 'em come boys!"

Bill Falconer, half back, "If our team puts forth what it has, we will win, otherwise we may not."

Lewis Lyon, tackle, "If we fight we win; if we do not fight, we lose. We have met the enemy and they are ours."

Frank, "Red" Heril, tackle, "I think we will beat 'em."

Dayle Burch, end, "We will fight and we will win."

Bill "Cowboy" Evans, guard. "We will knock the part out of Earl's hair."

Neil Callison, half back, "I will express my opinion Thanksgiving Day at 2:00 P. M.

Coach Johnson Hits Gambling

"We are looking forward to the keenest battle of our season. We know that Middlesboro has a good team, and that it will take hard playing to stop them. The boys are fit and ready. I believe they will give the fans a game which will demonstrate that football in southeastern Kentucky is fast approaching the top.

For our opponents we have only respect. We want them to understand that we harbor none of the bitterness which these petty gamblers have been so successful in instigating between these two towns. We want no backing with money; we want real solid backing, and these gamblers are usually selfish, yellow-livered folk who little care for the fact that they are working toward the ruination of high school athletics.

Our aim is to win in a fair and decissive manner, and we'll employ only clean football to do it.

May the better team win.

H. W. JOHNSON,
Coach Pineville H. S.

Eat 'Em Up, Chew 'Em Up Rah! Rah!

We are in shape to play as we have never played before; to show Middlesboro fans that their faith in us is justified; it will be a good hard fought game from start to finish and we are prepared to blot out three years of defeats with victory.

Captain Gibson,
Middlesboro, Ky.

Capt Dan Z. Gibson, is six feet high weighs 168, is senior in High School and leads his class in scholarship. This is his third year as a high school player.

He formerly played tackle but this year is playing full back. "Big Dan" is 17 years old.

Coach Kilpatrick Expects to Win

We expect to play the best team we have played this year. Pineville has a fast well coached team and we are not underestimating their strength. We have a better team than played Pineville last year. Our team, though not in excellent condition will put up a hard fight and will go into the game with determination to win. I make no prediction as to the score. We expect to win.

COACH KILPATRICK.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Martha Mitchell, the Latin instructor in Middlesboro high school has returned from a meeting of the Kentucky Classical Association, at Georgetown, Kentucky. At this meeting, new methods of teaching Latin in high schools were discussed. An interesting lecture on "Rome" was delivered by an instructor of the Academy at Rome.

Every one in High School is living under a strain of excitement. All eyes are focused on the football team and all thoughts are turning toward the big game Thanksgiving. A pep meeting was held Tuesday afternoon following school hours. At this meeting songs were practiced and other preparations were made for the big pep meeting Tuesday night. The battle cry is, "Get David Earl and Beat Pineville."

Every effort is being made to keep the boys of the football team in the best possible condition. The coaches have taken 15 first string men to the Booneway Inn. Here they are able to supervise their diet and see that they keep regular rest hours.

Cattle, two hundred, slow and changed. Hogs, twelve hundred, fifteen higher, five to nine twenty five. Shep, one hundred; steady unchanged.

Railroads Don't Make Their Own Rates

What the railroads charge for their passenger and freight service is a matter of extreme importance to every citizen of the United States. Every fair-minded man and woman believes that the owners of the railroads (nearly two million Americans are directly interested in railroad securities) should receive a fair return on their money invested. For many years this condition has not prevailed.

Contrary to general opinion, the railroads do not make their own rates, this being the principal duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a governmental bureau which has for many years established and controlled the making of all interstate rates and supervised the work of various State Railroad Commissions in making intra-state rates. The only thing new about rate making is the designation on the part of Congress, through the Esch-Cummins bill, (Sec. 15-A of the Interstate Commerce Act) of what is considered by Congress as "a fair return".

This figure was fixed on March 1, 1922 at 5¾%—at which it now stands. The Government does not guarantee any return to the railroads, but simply says that for rate making purposes the roads are permitted to earn 5¾% upon their aggregate property value. This is the particular section of the so-called "Transportation Act" that is being so much discussed by politicians and will receive so much of the attention of Congress.

The railroads believe that they should be given the opportunity to operate under this act until there is a demonstrated need for its revision. Great improvements have been made in railroad service during the past two years—the roads are handling the largest volume of business in their history and are rendering outstandingly good service to the American people—yet, they have never earned the permitted "fair return" of 5¾%. Does this look like rates are too high?

Why tamper with the Transportation Act? Give it a chance!

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without chance to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. R. 16.

Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had gall stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestoin. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, ncluding appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Lee's and druggists everywhere.
